Writing Narrating a story

A Read and identify narrative strategies

1 Why do people read books? Compare with a partner. Example: To find information...

2 Read this story. What is the purpose of the text? Choose the best answer.

It was the worst possible moment for my mobile to start ringing.

There was a burglar in the building and I was hiding behind the photocopier. I'd been working late and I was the last person in the office. When I heard the breaking glass, I knew immediately what was happening. I quickly found a dark corner and hid. Then my phone rang and I heard the burglar stop. He was listening. Then he started walking towards the photocopier. I held around me for a weapon, but I could only find a ball-point pen. It was blue. I think there he called my name. 'Is that you, Jill?' he asked. It was Tom, my boss. He'd left his keys on his desk and he couldn't get into his house.

3 Put the events in the order they actually happened.

I heard breaking glass.

I hid.

Tom left his keys on his desk.

I thought it was a burglar.

I worked late.

Tom asked, 'Is that you, Jill?'

My mobile rang.

4 How is another version of the story in exercise 2. Think of three reasons why it is less interesting.

Tom left his keys in the office and went back to get them. It was working late and thought Tom was a burglar.

5 Work with a partner. Find examples of the strategies below in the text in exercise 2.

Narrative strategies

1 Start in the middle of the story to catch the reader's attention quickly.

2 Go back to earlier events to explain the background to the situation.

3 Give details about the most exciting moments to get the reader interested in what's going to happen next.

4 Keep a surprise for the end of the story which explains everything that happened.

B Use narrative tenses to order the story

4 What is the order of the actions? Match a-c with 1-3.

My phone rang... a... and then I left the office.

b... while I was leaving the office.

c... after I left the office.

1 first green, then blue

2 first blue, then green

3 green and blue at the same time

7 What tense are the verbs in green in exercise 6?

8 Order these actions using the three narrative tenses.

1 watch TV have dinner

Example: I watched TV and then I had dinner.

2 listen to the radio make lunch

3 read the newspaper travel to work

C Think about your reader

9 Work with a partner. Rewrite this story using the strategies in exercise 2 to make it more exciting.

I was staying in a hotel in Barcelona. I went to a concert one night and took a taxi back to the hotel. It couldn't take me to the door because the hotel was in a pedestrian area, so I had to walk the last 500 metres. I left my bag in the taxi by mistake, got out, and started walking. I was late and was alone. Then I heard footsteps behind me. I was frightened. I thought it was a robber. I ran to the hotel. The person followed me in. He was the taxi driver and he was returning my bag.

10 Read Narrating a story on p 108. Which story is more exciting, yours or the one on p 108? Why?

BC Put it all together

11 Work with a partner. Choose one of the sentences below to start a story. Make notes on the main events. The moment I walked into the house, I knew something was wrong. I'm not usually afraid of dogs, but this one was different. I'd never ridden a motorbike before and I had no idea where the broken ones were.

12 Write a story of about 100 words starting with one of the sentences. Try to make the story entertaining.

13 Work in small groups. Read your classmates' stories. Try to guess the ending before you finish. Which story is the most entertaining?

I can narrate a story

Orientation

Context and Language

In this lesson, students practice using different past tenses to construct events in a narrative.

New language

begin to + verb (past form), begin to + verb (present)

begin to + verb (past form), begin to + verb (present)

begin to + verb (past form), begin to + verb (present)

Preparation

Put students into pairs to discuss the question. Encourage them to give examples. Ask for volunteers to suggest reasons.

2 Ask students to read answers a-c. Direct them to the text. Take a note on the best answer (2) and nominate students to explain why. Check understanding.

3 Read the instructions. Ask students to read the sentences and check vocabulary before they continue individually. Students compare ideas in pairs. Check answers.

1 I worked late. 2 I heard breaking glass. 3 I hid. 4 My mobile rang. 5 Tom asked, 'Is that you, Jill?'

Suggested answer

The events are written chronologically, there is no detail, it is written from the point of view of a person involved, there are no adjectives and adverbs, there is no direct speech.

4 Read the instructions. Ask students to look at strategies 1-4 and say what narrative strategies mean. Write a story. Go through each one, starting an example from exercise 2.

B Use narrative tenses to order the story

4 Go through the instructions. Do the example with the class to demonstrate the activity. Students continue in pairs. Monitor and help as necessary. Check answers.

7 Ask students to identify the tenses of the verbs in green in exercise 6. Explain that using different tenses helps make the story more interesting.

8 Go through this example to demonstrate the activity. Nominate students to say different ways of narrating the two events. Monitor for accurate use of tenses and tenses.

2 I listened to the radio and then I made lunch.

1 I listened to the radio after I made lunch.

3 I read the newspaper and then I travelled to work.

1 I read the newspaper after I travelled to work.

1 I read the newspaper while I was travelling to work.

C Think about your reader

9 Go through the instructions and read the text aloud to the class. Ask students to read the strategies in exercise 2, before they rewrite the story. Give positive feedback for accurate use of the grammar, tenses, and strategies.

10 Read the instructions and direct students to Narrating a story on p 108. Monitor and encourage students to be positive about their own writing.

BC Put it all together

11 Read the instructions and the three sentences. In pairs, students choose a topic and make notes on the main events.

12 Ask students to write their stories, making them as entertaining as possible for their reader.

13 Put students into small groups to exchange and read each other's stories. Ask them to stop about one or three sentences before the end and to guess the ending.

Student performance

Students should be able to narrate a story of about 100 words. You can use this checklist to monitor and give feedback or to assess student performance.

Content

Have students given details about the most exciting moments?

Organisation

Have students told the events in an interesting way?

Language

Have students used a variety of past tenses appropriately?

I can narrate a story

Students fill in the form if they followed the narrative strategies in exercise 2. They can tick with some help if they would make one or two changes when they write a second draft.
